

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Methods to increase the safety of patients taking pharmaceutical formulations of zonisamide by providing information that increases the awareness of pancreatitis as a possible side effect wherein both the patient and treating physicians and other medical care providers may monitor effectively for pancreatitis and methods for increasing the probability of a positive outcome in the few patients who experience pancreatitis associated with zonisamide therapy.